Paris, May 29.—When the peace conference met in plenary session this afternoon to hear the Austrian peace terms it was announced that the treaty had not yet been completed. It was decided therefore to postpone the session until Saturday when the completed treaty was expected to be ready.

Another reason for postponement of the plenary session was a request from the smaller powers, especially the Balkan states, that they be allowed further time to consider the terms.

Versailles, May 29.—Baron von Lersner of the German delegation informally delivered the completed counter proposals to Colonel Henry, the French liaison officer at 12:30 o'clock today. The Germans explained that there had been no time for translations which would be sent later.

The volume containing the counter proposals is not bound, corner fasteners holding together the 146 pages.

Versailles, May 29.—Ministers Landberg and Guisbert of the German delegation will leave here tonight for Berlin. Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, chairman of the delegation, will remain as he has to sign three more notes which will be transmitted to the secretariat of the peace conference.

Paris, May 29.—It was stated in high quarters this morning that a settlement of the Adriatic question now is a certainty as a result of the negotiations of yesterday and last evening. Under this settlement Fiume becomes an independent city.

The Italians will receive certain of the Dalmatian islands, but it is understood that they will not get Zara or Sebenico.

Paris, May 29.—The counter proposals formulated by the German delegation at Versailles have been delivered to the French authorities. The proposals probably will go before the Council of Four of the peace conference at this morning's session.

Paris, May 29.—In the section treating on territorial questions the German counter proposals to the terms presented by the allies say, according to a synthesis reaching Paris by the way of Basel that "the territory of the Saar, inhabited by 600,000 persons, is to be detached from the German empire because of claims upon its coal."

It is pointed out that during 15 years the territory is to be subject to the control of a commission "in the nomination of which the population has no choice."

Regarding Schleswig-Holstein, the German reply remarks that the frontier which will be voted upon under the stipulations of the treaty "goes much further even than the Danish government desires."

Can't Move Troops Across U. S. Territory In Connection With Villa Operation.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Washington, May 29.—President Coolidge has been notified by the American government that permission for the passage of Mexican troops through American territory will be withheld for the present. Mexico had asked to be permitted to move 2,000 men from Agua Prieta to Juarez for operation against Francisco Villa's forces.

It was said today officially that the decision of the government was based upon the belief that the forces which it was proposed to move through Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas would not be able to furnish protection to American citizens in northern Mexico because the revolutionaries had cut the road between Juarez and Chihuahua.

BLAME EUROPEANS FOR ANTI U. S. PROPAGANDA

Washington, May 29.—Elaborate anti-American propaganda being conducted in Brazil is believed to be the work of European business men who hope to alienate Brazilian business from the United States.

Certain Latin American influences, it was said at the state department to day, are also to be believed to be interested.

The propaganda appears in bad notices in newspapers reflecting on the European war and on the motives of the United States in the war. At the state department no apprehension was felt because the propaganda was so definitely false and the work of enemies.

BERLIN DOESN'T LIKE REPLY TO TERMS OF PEACE

Papers Condemn Counter Proposals as Being Depressing.

ONE SAYS GERMANY IS DOOMED TO SLAVERY

Would Count Value of Property Surrendered As Part Indemnity.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Berlin, Wednesday, May 28.—According to a semi-official statement the full indemnity which Germany offers to pay in her counter proposals to the peace terms will include sums going to Belgium against advances by the allies and also the value of all military and civil property surrendered by Germany since the armistice.

It is further conditioned upon territorial arrangements, that if the imperial territory is reduced the sum to be paid must be correspondingly distributed. Alsace-Lorraine and Posen, for instance, bearing their proportionate shares.

The conservative press of Berlin condemns the counter proposals to the peace terms submitted by Germany, especially the financial and military concessions which are granted.

The Pan-German Gazette brands the reply as "suicide" and the Post says: "The German people are doomed to slavery between two masters until a new Germany arrives to break the chains."

The Kreuse Zeitung is skeptical of the success of the counter proposals, despite what it calls "Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau's submissiveness," and the Tagesschau Rundschau says:

"The German reply is fully as depressing as the original terms."

The semi-official Wolf Bureau is circulating a story under an Amsterdam date which asserts the United States is "becoming increasingly dissatisfied with developments at Versailles," and that there is an "unmistakable strengthening of the inclination of an understanding with Germany through a modification of the peace terms."

A correspondent of a German newspaper at Versailles claims the Poles are especially favored by the entente because they propose to take over Russia's debt to France, which totals 20,000,000 francs.

BRITISH WILL HONOR CREW OF U. S. PLANE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Plymouth, England Wednesday, May 28.—It was announced here tonight that the British air ministry is planning to give the United States naval seaplane NC-4 and its crew a great reception. Three flying boats, in addition to two airships, will go out to escort the Americans to the Royal Air force meeting station in the Cartewater, the mouth of the Plym river. The Americans will be the guests of honor at the Royal Air force station probably on the day following their arrival.

BOY SCOUT FUND REACHES $10,000 CONTINUE EFFORTS TO REACH GOAL

Finance Committee Is Named to Organize Troops In County Villages—Voluntary Subscriptions Are Asked To Wind Up Work Quickly.

The Boy Scout fund has reached a total of $10,300, a little beyond the half way point.

Reports submitted the Licking County council of Boy Scouts last night showed an extraordinary interest upon the part of the public, several of the finance committee announcing that in a two day census they had not met with a single refusal to contribute.

The organization is working for a fund of not less than $18,000 which will put the scout movement upon a firm footing and provide money enough for three years operation under proper direction.

At present there are sixty-four Boy Scouts in Newark under the direction of Rev. L. P. Franklin. There is also a scout troop at Pataskala, Home, Johnsonville, Alexandria and Granville. Pataskala, Home, Hebron and other Licking county towns that may be interested.

H. F. Darrow, chairman of the finance committee who has given practically his entire time to the work this week, desires daily reports from the team captains. Only a few men are engaged in the cause and it will be possible to visit every "project." Those who desire to make a subscription to this scout work are requested to telephone Mr. Darrow (Auto 1303) or Mr. Albin, auto 1810.

BUSINESS BETTER IN MAY, REPORT

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Washington, May 29.—A noticeable upward trend in business during May, especially in those lines related to the leading retail trades which have felt the effects of buying power held back by the war, was reported today by the fed reserve board. The practically uniform report from Federal Reserve agents was said to point to a summer and autumn of unusual activity.

A warning was added, however, in most accepting the prospective prosperity at its full face value until conditions become more clarified.

The country now seems to be passing through a period of free expansion of reaction from the enforced economy and business restrictions of the war period, a statement by the board said. If the present activity should prove to be based principally on these causes a reaction may be looked for when these forces have spent their energy.

The price and production situation was said to be basically a continuation of that already noted in April with minor showings of tendency to retrograde. One federal reserve bank found that the public is slowly adjusting itself to the condition that there is to be no rapid post-war drop in prices and is reconciling itself to the probability that the old pre-war prices may never again be reached.

WILL ASK JURY TO PROBE BRIBERY

Legislative Committee Exonerates All But Frank Delehardt, Cleveland Representative.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Columbus, May 29.—The joint legislative bribery investigating committee's report to the legislature, which probably will be submitted late today, will exonerate every member of the general assembly with the exception of Representative Frank Delehardt of Cleveland, according to an announcement made by one of the members of the committee.

This committee stated that the report will show that evidence of bribery, which tends to show that Delehardt solicited money in connection with the purchase of his legislative office, will be turned over to the prosecuting attorney of Franklin county with a request that he take such action as he deems advisable.

Senator Howell Wright of Cleveland, for whom Delehardt, according to the evidence sought to bribe from Dr. Russell H. Skeels, chief lobbyist for the Ohio Chiropractic Association, will be tried said: "If the present activity should prove to be based principally on these causes a reaction may be looked for when these forces have spent their energy."

G. O. P. MEMBERS OF SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE ARE A UNIT AGAINST WORLD LEAGUE COVENANT AS IT STANDS

When the senate foreign relations committee takes up the peace treaty and the covenant of the league of nations the Republican majority on the committee probably without exception will be made of senators who if not opposed to any league of nations, will insist at least that it must be amended. As now proposed the Republican side of the committee will consist of Messrs. Lodge (Mass.), Borah (Idaho), Knox (Penn.), McCumber (N. D.), Brandegee (Conn.), Fall (N. M.), Harding (Ohio), New (Ind.), Moses (N. H.), and Johnson (Calif.).

Some of the senators opposing the league are discussing among themselves a suggestion that another round robin be prepared in the senate to be directed to the senate commission and setting forth the desire of the signers that the covenant and treaty be separated by the commission.

Disputes from Paris indicate an agreement by the Council of Four on questions relative to the Adriatic and the city of Fiume. That city, according to the latest reports, is to be an independent municipality. Regarding the other arrangements made, it is stated that the port of the Dalmatian islands are to go to Italy, but it is understood that she will not get the Adriatic ports of Zara and Sebenico.

The Vatican is represented officially at Paris for the first time since the peace conference began work. Monsignor Cerretti, papal under secretary of state, being in the city to discuss with entente chiefs the status of Catholic missions in lands affected by the deliberations of the conference. It is improbable, it is said, that he will be officially received by the conference because of the clause in the treaty of London, between Great Britain, France and Italy, which barred the Vatican from participating in discussions regarding questions connected with the war.

A statement has been issued by Nikolai V. Chichov, the Bolshevik premier of Russia, attacking Bela Kun, chief of the soviet in Hungary, according to a London dispatch. The statement is said to assert that Moscow is the center of the world revolution and must be obeyed.

American troops are apparently to be immediately withdrawn from northern Russia, transports having arrived at Archangel with British forces which will relieve the men who have been holding the lines during the last winter.

The German reply was received in installments. The first installment, comprised 88 pages. Other installments followed this and it was understood that the document within the time limit would be completed within the time limit.

The reply is written in German and bears the caption:

CITY WILL HONOR SOLDIER DEAD

Morning and Afternoon Program Arranged In Memory of Men Who Served Nation.

Each year the Memorial Day parade was marked by the marching of the veterans, and in the past few years their steps have become more faltering, but tomorrow marks the appearance of a new veteran, the veteran of the great war just coming to a close, and the kinsman who will march with the veterans.

Twenty-six new graves will be dedicated to three young soldiers who have died in the service this past year. Between 300 and 350 graves of veterans are found in the two cemeteries.

A large turnout is expected in the parade, and at 8:30 o'clock the details for Mt. Calvary under command of John Heier with C. H. Roosbaugh as aid will be in route to Mt. Calvary and in route to graves. The detail will return to the Auditorium, and the parade will move around the square and east in Main street. Each grave will be marked by a bouquet and a flag. The column will form at 10 o'clock with head of column at Memorial hall. Bodies will form in North Second and Church street and will report to chief of staff.

In the afternoon the annual memorial service will be held in the Auditorium theatre. Attorney A. S. Mitchell delivers the principal address.

Chairman C. W. Montgomery of the World War Veterans organization issues the following call to discharged soldiers and marines:

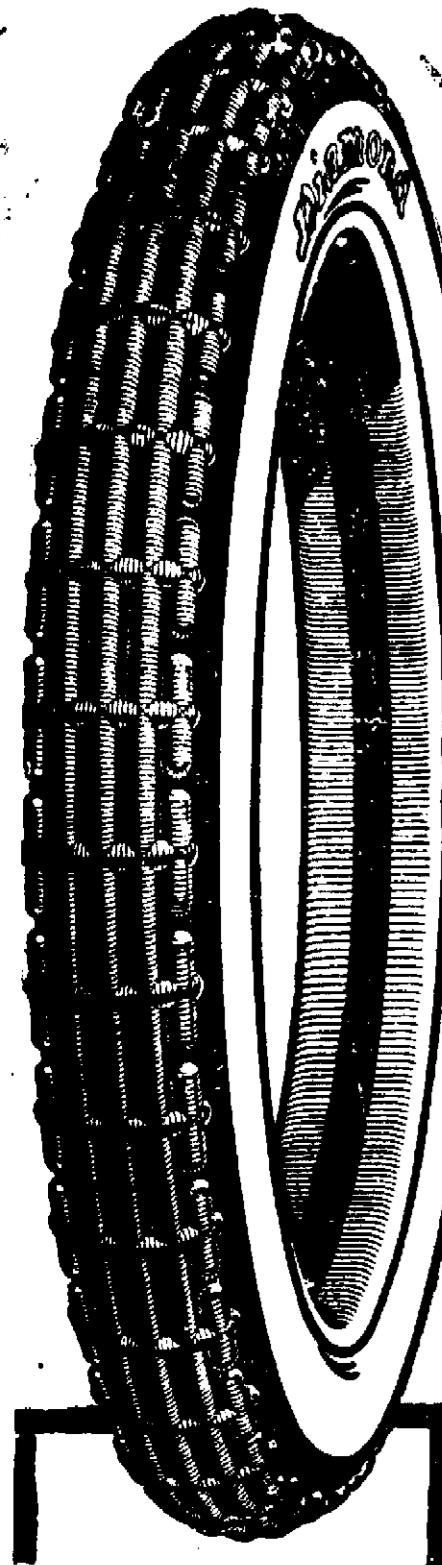

"Tomorrow at 8:30 a. m. in the section of the Decoration Day parade composed of all the men who have been in uniform during the present world war will form just in front of the Second Presbyterian church on Second street.

"Soldiers, sailors and marines will appear for this time their regulation uniform will be worn. They will be in route to the graves of the fallen, the fallen for the 45th division and if possible separate platoons for marines and for sailors.

"Everyone is urged to turn out promptly at 8:30 so that companies may be formed and a good organization made for a fitting tribute to the veterans of the great war and to our comrades that have laid down their lives in the great struggle."

"No Mail Delivery." There will be no delivery of mail to members of the 45th division.

"The general delivery and express post windows will be open until 10 o'clock a. m. All the offices in the court house and city hall will be closed in order that the officials and clerks may participate in the services of the day. The post office will not operate and there will be no delivery of

MONTGOMERY TO HEAD NEW VETS

Temporary Organization Elected Wednesday Night at Meeting Held at Memorial Hall.

A temporary organization was effected last evening at the discharge officers, soldiers, sailors and marines in Licking county by the naming of Major Charles W. Montgomery as temporary chairman. A permanent organization of world war veterans will be formed after the 324 Regiment of Heavy Field Artillery is mustered out of the service, or the reason that it contains several hundred Licking county boys.

It was also decided to participate in the Memorial Day parade Friday morning. Major Montgomery will act as grand marshal of the day and will be assisted by his wife, Mrs. Wilson, chief of staff, and Major Charles Myrick.

There will be a flotation of men from the Rainbow division commanded by Lieut. Paul Jackson and another of the 37th division. There will also be another flotation commanded by Capt. John Fleck, with Chaplain Benji Weld as aid.

All discharged soldiers, sailors and marines have been asked to be in uniform and will form at the Second Presbyterian church at 9 a.m. o'clock, the parade starting at 10. It is the desire of the officers in charge that all the boys turn out and gladden the hearts of the old soldiers as well as representing a patriotic spectacle for the thousands of our citizens who will be out to witness the parade.

COMMISSIONERS TALK HOSPITAL

The county commissioners of Licking, Fairfield and Perry counties met today in joint session to discuss the proposed county tubercular hospital which will probably be built near Black Hand. Muskingum county was to have been represented but the clerk forgot to mark the meeting here today on his calendar and it was overlooked. A permanent organization has been formed and it is the desire of those interested to have five counties assist in building and maintaining the proposed hospital which will consist of an administration building and a number of cottages for patients. Another meeting will be held at a short time at which it is expected that five counties will be represented.

Island of Corfu.

The Island of Corfu claims a part of the history of the Phoenicians, and the Phoenicians landed in the course of their wanderings, and on this occasion did not do so far as to bid the king of the island, King Alcetes, receive them with such beautiful hospitality and reverence as the hands of Naupactus, the daughter of King Alcetes, received the Phoenicians. Indeed, to this day the Corfiots close to the shores of Corfu do not forget the honor of being the first to receive the Phoenicians, turned into stone.

DR. CHAS. P. KING DIES IN COLUMBUS

Former Newark Physician Succumbs to Paralysis Wednesday Night in Columbus Hospital.

Dr. Charles P. King died at 9 o'clock last night at St. Anthony's hospital, Columbus, as a result of a stroke of paralysis he suffered on February 11 of this year. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Walter C. Chapman of Columbus.

Born March 31, 1841, in Newark, Charles P. King was the youngest of a large and well known family. He graduated in one of the first classes from the Newark high school after which he went to Kenyon where he distinguished himself in his studies and became an ardent member of the D. X. E. fraternity from Kenyon. After graduation he attended Jefferson Medical college, and after completing the course he returned to practice medicine in his native town. From that time he was a well known figure in the Licking County Medical society in the Columbus Academy of Medicine in his much published articles in the "Lancet," "Clinical" and various periodicals on vital subjects.

With a great generous heart and a warm sympathetic nature, his prominent characteristic was kindness and through the sorrows of his later years he bore himself with a courage and a cheer that was heroic in its quality.

Of superior mental attainments and prodigious memory he retained his clearness of vision to the last. Thus passes one of Newark's oldest citizens, all of his life until the last few years, being given to the activities of his profession and to the welfare of his friends and family.

The funeral will be held on Saturday at 2 p. m. Friends are invited. The services will be held at the Second Presbyterian church of this city of which he is a member.

With a great generous heart and a warm sympathetic nature, his prominent characteristic was kindness and through the sorrows of his later years he bore himself with a courage and a cheer that was heroic in its quality.

Of superior mental attainments and prodigious memory he retained his clearness of vision to the last. Thus passes one of Newark's oldest citizens, all of his life until the last few years, being given to the activities of his profession and to the welfare of his friends and family.

The funeral will be held on Saturday at 2 p. m. Friends are invited. The services will be held at the Second Presbyterian church of this city of which he is a member.

NEWARK MEN TO TAKE
SEED TESTING COURSE

C. B. Osburn and Max R. Osburn of Newark have registered for the short course in seed testing, to be held at the Ohio State University, college of agriculture, Columbus, June 11 and 12. The purpose of the course is to acquaint seed dealers with the provisions of the new Ohio seed law and to offer training in the analysis of seeds. E. H. Hillman of the United States department of agriculture, declared to be one of most expert seed analysts in the country, will be in charge of the laboratory work.

GOVERNOR'S VETO.

Governor Cox's veto of the Busby-Fouts highway measure must meet with the sincere approval of every advocate of good government in Ohio, regardless of party affiliation. In his veto message the governor said:

"This bill was not written within legislative halls by agencies almost if not all other devoted to highway and other selfish interest which covet opportunity to participate, share or profit. As originally drawn it upset existing law with a blazon indifference to common honesty; a section was included to let bonding companies escape the responsibility of contracts made with the state, permitting vast losses to fall upon the public treasury."

It is further charged that the bill violated the time-honored precaution of permitting neither contract nor disbursement for public uses until the money is in the treasury, as the supreme court has so often decreed. It failed to purchase road machinery and to build cash, thus as the bill terms it, "providing for the needs of the hour by the creation of a debt."

The legislature refused to do as the governor asked, to separate the many good points from the bad, so that the good might be preserved. Governor Cox favors the levy to help the weaker counties, permitting them to accept Federal aid and he states that serious fault cannot be found with the increase in the state levy. "But," the message continues, "when we go further, we are indulging in a generosity with the people's money that sound business principles cannot endorse."

The average tax rate in the state was 12.68 mills in 1918. This bill makes it possible to increase the rate in every county 2.20 mills bring the state average up to 15.88 mills.

Here the chief executive issues a warning that it will be well to heed, when he says, "It is well to reflect upon these figures particularly since there seems to be more or less insistence on giving up to cities the other local subdivisions the untried right to pay off existing indebtedness and to take care of deficits which are not present now but which can be created this year under authority or contemplation. I hazard the statement that unless a check is applied somewhere the bill which your honorable body proposes to enact into law, will carry an increase approximating five mills in some parts of the state. It is a burden which can not be defended and the impact which it will create in discouraging home ownership is as certain as the coming of the day."

The governor further charges that a misleading campaign has been maintained for the bill. Automobile clubs chambers of commerce, boards of county commissioners and many others have urged through ingenious propaganda to wire the governor of the state recommending that the bill be approved.

The veto was applied because the cause of good roads in Ohio is menaced by the bill. It will lift taxes to a point all out of reason and produce a fund in the disbursement of which there will be every opportunity for congestion in road work, inflation in prices in which the opportunity for graft will be on parcellated.

One should applaud the stand of the governor against the powerful influences that are attempting to saddle a taxation burden on the state that is to be void all bonds of reason or honesty.

The party leaders should look to their economy legislature would have had the tax rate boosted fully 50 per cent all over Ohio and the Smith tax limit forever put into the discard, had it not been for Governor Cox. And the fight is not over yet. Passage over the veto will be attempted. If it succeeds the Democratic party will not be true to its trust, nor true to the governor who has been fighting the people's fight, unless it promptly secures a referendum on it. The people will do the rest, never fear.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS.

Again they go up. And they never come down. War Savings Stamps again increase in value June 1. War Stamps selling for $4.18 during May will cost $4.17 next month.

For those holding them another dividend is to be declared. Owners of War Savings Stamps get twelve dividends a year. Each month the government grants interest on baby bonds. Their worth is always known—they don't fluctuate in value from day to day. And they never go down. Buy War Savings Stamps before June 1 and save money.

THE BOY SCOUTS.

The campaign to finance the Boy Scout movement is progressing nicely and those who constitute the Licking County Council of Boy Scouts are confident of success. The half way point in the campaign for funds has been passed $19,300 of the required $18,000 for three year's service having been subscribed to date. The solicitors received in and in practically every instance a subscription is obtained.

The Boy Scouts movement deserves to succeed. It has the hearty endorsement of the United States government and the support of the leaders in every community. The success of the present campaign means that hundreds of Licking county boys will reap the benefits of this great organization and what benefits the boys benefits the community. Don't let the Scout movement fail. If you have not been solicited telephone your subscription to Mr. S. E. Albin, county chairman, or Mr. H. F. Darrow, chairman of the finance committee.

THE BURDEN BEARERS.

(Washington Post)
Some radicals and emotionalists have deplored the severity of the peace terms dictated to Germany. Their complaint has been not that the payment demanded of Germany is unjust, but that it will place a burden upon the shoulders of German people for a generation to come, which will crush and embitter them and perpetuate a feeling upon which the nations of the world cannot build universal and enduring peace. Hence they would have the German people forgiven and the reparation done from their forgotten, not entirely perhaps, but to a great extent.

These misguided sympathizers with the present hard lot of the German people forget that the bill presented Germany represents only a part of the payment which the whole world must make because of this German-made war. They forget that the people of all allied countries will also bear a burden and a very heavy, discouraging one, for at least a generation to come in order to pay for this war.

Let them consider the situation of Australia. A prosperous, booming Commonwealth before the war, remote from the theatre of operations, spared the devastation visited upon France and Belgium, one would not think Australia burdened to the point of danger. Yet the acting prime minister of Australia says that the war's burden is so great that every resource must be levied upon to the utmost and that every Australian must contribute to the strained economy for many years to come.

If that be the burden imposed upon the rich, growing and resourceful country that must be the eight-fold burden for the peasants of France. No part of the burden can be lifted from German shoulders. The burden of the allies is even now so heavy that remote Australia carry one ounce less than it is possible for her to bear while the rest of the continent?

As I went up the walk the dog looked at me like he was hostile an' showed his teeth an' growled. So I says, 'Will he bite me, Hal?' says I. 'Oh, no, Aunt Caline,' he says, 'he's always a good boy.' I don't think he will," he says. "He don't skinkly never bunt nobody but Paw," says he. "He bit him yesterday an' it made Paw off mad, an' he says to me of that dog dog bites him once more he'll kick him into the middle of next week," says he. "But if he does that, Aunt Caline," says he, "I'll never see poor old Pompey no more nor he'll never be able to find his way back from there," he says.

Well, we got down street and back without casualty yesterday, negotiating all the crossings safely, though we realized when we got to Fourth and Church streets that Newark is no place for pedestrians.

Did You Know.
That the name "dromedary" is derived from an old Greek word, "droma," meaning to run? The dromedary is a one-humped Arabian camel distinguished by slenderness of limb, symmetry of form, and by extraordinary fleetness. It is said to bear the same relation to the ordinary camel that a race horse does to a work horse. The pace of a dromedary is a trot, which it can maintain without interruption for a prodigious length of time. It often travels at the rate of one mile an hour for many hours together, and it can make a journey of six hundred miles in five days.

TOO BIG A JOB.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

There has been much talk of America accepting a mandate for the protection and guidance of Armenia. There has also been some discussion of the possibility of America assuming responsibility for Constantinople. It has remained for Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, to propose that the United States accept a mandate for Constantinople, Anatolia and Armenia all combined as one great state.

Whatever Mr. Morgenthau may have to say commands a respectful hearing, but the more one considers his grandiose suggestion the more impractical it seems. The fundamental objection is that the Armenians should never again be included in a Turkish state. They have suffered sufficiently from Turkish cruelty and general wickedness of administration and are entitled to complete separation. In the state as mapped by Mr. Morgenthau the Turks would be in the majority, and the Armenians, despite the protection of the American mandate, would still be in some measure a subject race.

Moreover the task of keeping Turks and Armenians in harmony would be too great even for American versatility. It would require superhuman ingenuity to devise a modus vivendi that would be satisfactory to both peoples. Any American mandate in the near east would be sufficiently difficult, but the scheme outlined by Mr. Morgenthau would doubtless prove quite unworkable.

No matter what happens to the sultan, no matter whether or not Constantinople is left nominally under Turkish control, no matter what limits may be set to the Anatolian realm to which real Turkish authority is to be limited, there should be an absolute and final divorce of Armenia from the Turkish connection. Armenia's martyrdom has earned her this reward.

A Four Minute Talk Why You Should Build Now

A Man That Owns a Home

Is a credit to himself and to the community in which he dwells—that's a fact. Perhaps any other man in the same station in life, has the good will of his fellow-citizens. But suppose, just for example we say—two men, one the home owner, the other, a good citizen and both having qualities equally as good—but both have a streak of misfortune—which of the two will get credit at the bank?

Newark Needs Homes

For two years there has been very little building in Newark—we divided our money, time, and energies to help win the World War. Now it's time for Newark to come in for her own. We deserve to grow. We can't—that's sure—unless we have more buildings going up. Why do we need more apartments and homes in Newark. The answer is easy. We are scrambling for places to live in, now—and there are new industries coming with their workmen who must have places in which to live.

Your Own Home

The home that you desired to build for the past few years, can now become a reality and at a reasonable cost. You can become one of those "home owners" and realize that ambition of owning a home and at the same time confer a lasting benefit upon Newark". "If Newark is a good town to live in it's a good town to work for." How can you be of better service than by building now. Even the modern improvements added to the old house will help. Then too—as a business investment there's nothing more substantial than buildings.

Materially Speaking

You are certain of deliveries, labor is to be had, and buildings erected now are bound to have a high property value in later years. Dollars put in buildings pave the way for prosperity—we all reap the benefits. Your contract makes hundreds of smaller contracts.

IF YOU HAVE A BOY WITH THE 324TH, WHO WILL BE HOME SOON TELL HIM OF THE NEW HOME YOU ARE TO BUILD—HE'LL BE INTERESTED AND MORE WILLING TO STAY AT HOME WITH THE FOLKS.

WOULD REMAIN "UNDER COVER"

Sergeant Had His Reasons for Not Making at That Time a "Full an' Free Confession."

An American colonel in France was having difficulty with his safe. It was the headquarters safe. Its lock had jammed, and none of his staff could open it. While they were struggling with it a negro sergeant came up to them apologetically.

"Cul'n't," he said, "if I ain't intrudin' into dis heah difficulty, I believes, sah, dat I might be yah."

"Yes?" said the colonel. "What do you suggest?"

"Cul'n't," said the sergeant, "I suggests Co'p'l Hall."

They sent for Corporal Hall and Corporal Hall opened the safe.

"Well, sergeant," the colonel said, "I'm glad to know about Corporal Hall. I wish I'd known it sooner. It would have saved us a lot of time with that safe. And tell me, sergeant!—in case we may need to call on you some day—in what direction do your particular talents lie?"

"Cul'n't," the sergeant answered, "Ah doan' want to tell no lies. Standin' as Ah does daily in the presence of mah Makeh, mos' doubtless Ah doan' want to tell no lies. But if de time comes when Ah kin be yah, sah, Ah'll make a full an' free confession, a full an' free confession, sah."—Ben B. Lindsey in the Cosmopolitan Magazine.

DEATH OF A FAMOUS DUCK

Peggy of Rouen, N. J., Laid 325 Eggs in a Single Year, and Was Easily World's Champion.

The death of Peggy, the famous duck of Rouen, New Jersey, comes as a reminder to us that we would do well to follow the principles which guided the life of this excellent bird.

Peggy was celebrated in two hemispheres as the champion egg-layer of the world, the New York Evening Post states. Peggy, in one year laid as many as 325 eggs. Yet, celebrated as she was, noted wherever eggs were laid or scrambled, head of her glorious profession, what was her attitude after we entered the war? Did she rush into print, airing her opinion as to what the president ought to do? Not at all.

Despite numerous tempting offers from fowl fashions and other magazines, she refrained from utterance and continued contributing her daily drop to national victory. Even when the Germans evaded their recent peace drive Peggy did not turn hysterical and demand that they at once surrender all the Strassburg geese. She, still in silence, went on with her lay. It is related of her that on the morning of her demise she quietly produced an egg, and, indicating her satisfaction with a feeble quack, keeled over and expired.

Tanks Like a Deck of Cards.

In the open stretch, beyond the last fringe of wood, we struck the field where the American tanks attacked the Huns on flank and rear and finished the battle of Argonne wood, Elizabeth Frazer writes in the Saturday Evening Post. Later we saw a complete outfit of these grotesque monsters go wallowing across a shell-torn field. Their insignia were the characters on a deck of cards, and they always followed suit. Thus an ace of spades was always followed by the king of spades, the king by his spouse; and so on down to the tray. As we passed, the knave of hearts thrust forth a grinning face from his round armored little turret and waved a grimy paw. Close on his tail waggedly tangoed the ten spot. It was a like some mad scene in "Alice in Wonderland."

Grim Jest Pathetic.

Was Poe's tale "The Masque of the Red Death" prophetic? His story was that on the stroke of midnight a tall, red-gowned figure revealed itself amid the revelers as Death by Plague. A counterpart from real life is reported from Cowesbury, Wales. It is the report of a masquerade ball, at which one of the masked celebrants simuled Death, in a black robe and hollow eye-sockets.

There were 140 dancers at the ball. Of this number, 122 are now suffering from influenza. Twelve are already dead, including the death masker.

Italy's Exports.

Italian motor car exports showed a falling off for the first six months of 1918, compared with the corresponding period of the two preceding years. From January 1 to June 30, 1918, a total of 2,356 lorries and touring cars were exported, having a value of approximately £1,400,000, compared with 4,148 vehicles in 1917 and 2,731 in 1916. The number of touring cars exported during the first six months of 1918 was 728, this constituting a record, for the figures of the two preceding years were 244 and 569, respectively.

It's True in Terre Haute.

The other day a primary teacher in the Terre Haute schools was teaching her youngsters about animals. She had told them about domestic animals and then pig. Then she turned to the children. "Can't some little boy name some wild animals?" she asked.

John could. He rose with alacrity. "Ghosts and Indians," he shouted.

The work of Col. William G. Bell in managing the bakeries that supplied the daily bread for two million U. S. soldiers in France has won him two rewards. France has bestowed upon him the Legion of Honor and the U. S. recently raised him to the rank of colonel.

THE NEWARK DAILY ADVOCATE

SHOFAR OF GREAT ANTIQUITY

Oldest Form of Wind Instrument That Has Been Retained in Use by the World.

Dr. Cyrus Adler, writing of the shofar, calls it the solitary musical instrument actually preserved in the Mosiac ritual. "It is also," he says, "the oldest form of wind instrument known to be retained in use by the world. Professor Steinthal pointed out that this was an instrument no doubt used in prehistoric times. Wetzstein is of the opinion that the use of the ram's horn may have been borrowed by the Israelites and goes back to a people who were engaged solely in the care of sheep; by them it was used as a signal of alarm. There can be little doubt that it has been continuously used in the Mosiac service from the time it was established until now. The shofar was not the only horn used by the Israelites as a musical instrument, but no copies or representations of other musical instruments have come down to us. From the Talmud we learn that the use of the shofar as a note of alarm, of war, was transferred to other seasons of danger and distress. Famine, a plague of locusts, and drought occasioned the blowing of this instrument. The shofar was employed at the public ceremony of ex
